Allsigns International Ltd are one of the largest sign manufacturers in the UK. We design, produce and install bespoke signage systems to clients in both the private and public sector.

We also supply a wide distributor network reselling health and safety signs throughout the UK in a variety of marketplaces.

Allsigns currently have a vacancy for a full-time internal account handler, although this role may occasionally include an element of field sales.

You should be able to demonstrate a successful sales history as you will be responsible for an established sales territory where you will be expected not only to grow the area but also to develop existing accounts.

The successful candidate will be dealing with a wide range of personnel from the shop floor up to director level; you will be expected to show individual prowess as well as the ability to work as part of a larger team.
